Welcome to the latest edition of our winter product guide, which contains a flavour of just some of the endless varieties of produce that we source from the UK and much further afield.

For this edition, as well as providing a facelift, we have also added some seasonal recipes on pages 44 to 45, which have been lovingly put together by our very own development team - be sure to check these out! And don't forget that the team is here to help and always on hand to provide you with the latest industry insight or create innovative menu solutions. If you would like to make more of your produce by arranging an inspirational session with our team, please speak to your account manager.

It doesn't seem like six months ago when I was busy writing about the approaching 31st October Brexit deadline. None-the-less, this date has now passed and Brexit has been postponed (once again) until the end of January 2020, which leaves the landscape looking as uncertain as ever. Of course, there's also the small matter of a general election to contend with before we reach that point, which means more twists and turns no doubt.

However, one thing that you can rely on is Reynolds' sourcing plans. Amongst all of this uncertainty you can rest assured that our grower contracts are in place and that currency has been hedged, to lock down prices. Not only that, but we've undertaken a lot of detailed work behind the scenes for the two previous Brexit deadlines, which means that we will be as prepared as we can for any disruption at ports should the worst-case scenarios become a reality in a no-deal Brexit.

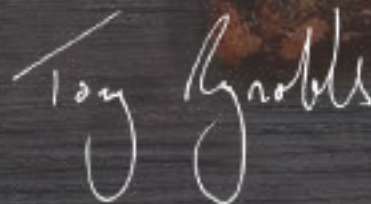

Of course, no matter how much you plan, in the world of fresh produce the weather generally has the final say. This time last year, the UK potato, root vegetable and onion crops were headline news, all severely depleted because of the inclement British weather. Until now, the season has been faring better for most of our growers, but things can change very quickly. Recent flooding across many parts of the country is now a concern, especially for potato and brassica growers. Only time will tell how much of an impact this current episode will have on harvests across the UK.

At Reynolds, our sourcing strategy is driven by our strong relationships with growers, both at home and abroad. Having multiple growers for each product category means that even in uncertain times, whether that's down to Brexit or the poor weather, we are better able to deliver the continuity of supply you expect from us.

On a final note, did you know that Reynolds really is now living up to its mantra of being 'more than just a greengrocer'? Through our dedicated butchery and fishmonger businesses, Carnivore and Shoal, we are now able to supply meat and fish alongside our fresh produce and dairy products. If you want to know more about Reynolds' total chilled solution, please speak to your account manager for further details.

Thank you for listening

Yours

Tony Reynolds

More than Just a Greengrocer

In 1945, William Reynolds was setting up his fruit and vegetable stall for the first time in London's East End. Little did he know then that the Reynolds business would become one of today's leading suppliers of fresh produce to the catering industry.

William Reynolds began selling fruit and vegetables from a market stall in Ridley Road; the genesis of a business that is still family-run, but today is among the leading national produce distributors in the UK and an acknowledged specialist in the handling and distribution of chilled, short-life food products.

The cornerstone of this success is the established relationships with both customers and suppliers and Reynolds has maintained a reputation for reliability, flexibility, attention to detail and exceptional customer service; old-fashioned values that are appreciated by a client list that includes some of the most high profile names in the foodservice sector.

However, while the values may be old-fashioned, this is a truly modern business with state of the art facilities, systems and procedures designed to support you, our customers, with the finest product and the highest levels of service available.

Reynolds' National Distribution Centre in Hertfordshire is a 210,000 sq.ft. temperature-controlled facility that, as well as offering superlative storage and distribution functions, provides the necessary efficiencies to enable us to execute the raft of environmental initiatives we have undertaken to minimise our carbon footprint.

A fleet of over 250 temperature-controlled vehicles operate via nine regional distribution centres (Manchester, Leeds, Birmingham, Bristol, Bury St Edmunds, Gillingham, Eastleigh, Newbury and Grangemouth) and provide a consistent and reliable national service, on a day one for day two basis. Meanwhile our automated conveyor picking lines provide greater picking accuracy, improved product handling and, ultimately, better value for our customers.

All of our systems and procedures conform to the highest BRC accreditation, giving you the confidence that we are operating to the highest standards.

Consistent quality, the very freshest produce and a highly reliable service are at the top of any customer's wish list when it comes to the supply of fruit, vegetables and chilled produce in general. This is why, over many years, Reynolds has become the foodservice operators' supplier of choice and has grown into the organisation it is today.

Ever-increasing consumer demands for fresher produce, improved service and value for money continue to place greater pressures on our customers. Kitchen storage space doesn't get any bigger, the food budget is ever-shrinking and we must all satisfy the need to develop more sustainable and environmentally-friendly practices.

Having won numerous industry awards, Reynolds is a recognised specialist in the provision of fresh fruit and vegetables. However, as more and more of our customers have wanted to place their total fresh and chilled order with us, our product range has extended accordingly. Today, we hold not only an extensive range of fresh and prepared fruit, vegetable and salad products, but also selections of cheese, dairy, pasta, meat and fish, as well as other essential ingredients no kitchen can afford to be without. What's more, customers can now have their meat and seafood delivered through Reynolds, sourced from Carnivore and Shoal, our specialist Butcher and Fishmonger.

Consolidating your fresh and chilled order with Reynolds will not only save you time and money, it will also serve to reduce your carbon footprint and support a more environmentally-friendly and sustainable delivery service.

It is often said that a business is only as good as its people and Reynolds is very much a specialist business in that regard. Our expert buying team purchases your produce directly from growers, both locally and all around the world, whilst our dedicated quality management team accept only the finest products into our warehouse. All our activities are co-ordinated by a highly-trained customer services team, as well as quality management, warehouse and transport operatives, who work closely together to ensure the highest attainable levels of service for our customers.

Our sales team will work alongside you to improve your order efficiency, and will help to identify which order capture method is best for your business. Our team will take your order when it suits you – not them. You can call us or email, or we can work with you to provide a suitable e-commerce order capture method – most of our customers now place their orders with us via a form of EDI.

Ultimately, every customer has their own needs and one of the reasons why Reynolds is the foodservice operators' supplier of choice is that we listen. We listen to you, we understand your business and we provide solutions to support your individual requirements.

You might be surprised to discover the extensive range of produce we have available to you on a daily basis – please take time to browse through this product guide and always call us if you have any questions concerning the range available.

Rest assured, whilst our range keeps growing, our commitment to service and quality remains our number one priority. Keeping our customers happy is our constant aim.

British Fruit, Vegetables and Salad from Reynolds

As the days become shorter and the colder weather takes hold, your diners will no doubt be looking for some hearty winter warmers on your menu...

Thick, flavoursome soups; rich stews and casseroles packed full of chunky vegetables; home-made game pies with hearty mashed potato and spicy crumbles loaded with winter fruits.

British consumers have long had a preference for provenance and this affinity shows no sign of diminishing. A recent report compiled by The National Farmers Union states that 86 per cent of British consumers wish to buy more traceable food produced in the UK.

This summer and autumn, our range of British produce at Reynolds was more extensive than ever and this winter and spring will be no exception. Sadly, at this time of year the British climate doesn't lend itself quite as well to growing so much fresh produce, but rest assured if home-grown crops are available in any quantity over the colder months, you can get them from Reynolds!

Here's a list of just some of the products you can expect us to

Fruit

Apples and pears

A large number of apple and pear varieties are grown in the UK throughout the year. Check out our Seasonal Calendar to find out what's available and when at www.reynolds-cs.com

Rhubarb

Early harvests of forced rhubarb will become available during January, with the outdoor crop following on a couple of months later. See page 45 for a delicious rhubarb salad recipe.

Check out
www.reynolds-cs.com to meet some of our growers.

Vegetables

Savoy cabbage

Available all the way through until April, our Lincolnshire grown cabbages are great stir-fried with a little bacon, as well as being your key component for bubble and squeak.

Red cabbage

Great served with game or any rich meat, red cabbage is a cracking side dish during colder months. Alternatively, why not pickle and serve as part of a wintry ploughman's?

White cabbage

Simple and understated, why not mix it up with our other UK-grown cabbages, carrots and onions to produce a genuine British winter coleslaw? Add your own twist with some home-grown squash or spring greens.

Black cabbage

Known in Italy as cavolo nero, black cabbage looks a bit like an overgrown cross between spinach and chard, but tastes more like savoy cabbage. Quite a robust leaf, it takes a fair bit of cooking, but it is wonderful when added to soups and stews. Grown in Lincolnshire for most of the season.

Curly kale

Curly kale is one of the oldest brassicas. The vegetable we know today is more than 2,000 years old and several varieties were developed by the Romans. Only the leaves are used in cooking and are delicious boiled, steamed, or sautéed in butter.

Spring greens

Our spring greens are almost always sourced from the UK and are great in stir-fries, soups and stews, but be careful not to over-cook!

Purple sprouting broccoli

Predominately grown in Lincolnshire, the purple green florets of this variety of broccoli have a slightly wild look and grow on slender, leafy stems of varying lengths. Serve steamed or blanched with hollandaise sauce or use in stir-fries as an alternative to tenderstem broccoli.

Sprouts

Love them or hate them, our sprouts truly are the pick of the bunch and the classic winter accompaniment. We have flowering sprouts, as well as the traditional variety and we can supply them still on their stalks or trimmed to cut down on preparation time. Remember, sprouts aren't just for Christmas – you can get UK-sourced Brussels through until March from Reynolds! Meet our grower at www.reynolds-cs.com.

Swede

Swedes are rich in vitamin A and packed full of minerals – ours generally come from our grower partners in Perthshire. Create that perfect swede and carrot mash by just adding butter and a hint of seasoning.

Vegetables

Carrots

We have growers located across most of the UK to ensure 365 day availability whatever the weather. Ask which British sourced varieties we have in stock when you place your order.

Parsnips

One of the most versatile British vegetables, it really does lend itself to almost any winter dish – soups, roasts, stews...even a sweet country wine or a quirky ice cream! Always that little bit better eaten after the first frost has taken place. Meet one of our growers at www.reynolds-cs.com, and don't forget to try our Piccolo variety.

Beetroot

Beetroot has grown in popularity enormously over the last few years and, at Reynolds, we buy British whenever we can. Why not serve it with one of our British goats' cheeses either in a great tasting salad or a delicious wrap? See our recipe page at www.reynolds-cs.com for some ideas using British grown beetroot.

Don't forget that much of our range of prepared vegetables is also UK-grown. Just ask your sales contact for details.

Cauliflower

Full of essential nutrients, our Lincolnshire cauliflowers are extremely versatile. Whether roasted, steamed, fried or cooked into a warming soup, it's the perfect winter staple!

Potatoes

Whether you're chipping, mashing, boiling, roasting or baking, we really do have a UK potato available for all occasions, and almost all are Red Tractor accredited. Check with your sales contact which is best for your needs and don't forget to ask about our heritage varieties.

Salad

Pea shoots

Pea shoots are the leaves of the traditional garden pea plant; picked when they are young and tender, they have a distinctive fresh pea flavour. A great British alternative to more traditional salad leaves, they are available all year round.

Micro cresses

Almost all of our micro cresses are British-grown and are great in sandwiches, salads and as attractive garnishes for dishes. See page 27 for details.

Salad cress

Also known as mustard cress, this pot herb combines sprouted seedlings of yellow mustard with garden cress. The small leaves grow densely together inside the punnets. Use in salads or sandwiches.

Red Tractor

The Red Tractor is an independent mark of quality that guarantees the food we're buying comes from farms and food companies that meet high standards of food safety and hygiene, animal welfare and environmental protection. As a Red Tractor licensee, Reynolds can provide you with products that meet these criteria. Our list of Red Tractor accredited products is updated on a regular basis - please visit www.reynolds-cs.com.

British Bramley Apples

Product highlights with Reynolds

Grown only in Britain, the Bramley is the definitive British cooking apple and, in terms of flavour, ranks as one of the world's best culinary apples.

The first Bramley apple tree was planted in 1809 by a young girl, Mary Ann Brailsford, in her garden in Southwell, Nottinghamshire and the same tree continues to bear fruit more than 100 years later. The name 'Bramley' comes from the Brailsfords' cottage's next owner, Matthew Bramley, a local butcher who agreed to let nurseryman Henry Merryweather take cuttings and sell the fruit on the condition that the apples took his name.

The Bramley is perfect for the kitchen and has a wide range of uses: it works well in dessert dishes, sauces and compotes. It is relatively easy to grow in the UK, and produces large crops.

Full of goodness and suitable for every occasion, our fruit baskets are a guilt-free way to indulge!

Baskets of opportunity

Made to order and with a range of sizes and contents available, there's a fruit basket to suit every occasion. We select only the best seasonal fruit and carefully package it in a traditional wicker basket decorated with soft tissue paper. We then cover the basket in a see-through wrap to protect the delicate fruit.

A perfect addition to a function | Attractive centrepiece | Ideal for special occasions

Here are just a few reasons why customers choose our fruit baskets:

- A perfect addition to buffets, banquets, boardroom lunches and other functions
- A great, attractive centrepiece for reception areas and hotel rooms
- Ideal for special occasions and events such as birthdays, anniversaries or Christmas parties
- An additional revenue stream to sell to your customers – they make ideal presents. Why not take pre-orders from your clients for collection at the end of the week?

- A nice moral boost for employees – is there a better way to make sure your staff eat their five a day?

To ensure maximum freshness, all our fruit baskets are made to order so please ensure you place your order by 2pm for delivery the next day or next available delivery day.

Please note that, due to seasonal variations in fruit, actual contents may vary, but here is a rough guide to what you can expect in each basket:

Bananas

Product highlights with Reynolds

Bananas are widely-grown across the tropics and subtropics. The fruit is a great source of potassium and, as a result, is a popular high-energy snack for sports enthusiasts.

The banana plant can grow up to 26 feet, but only bears fruit once a year. The cluster of fruit contains anywhere between 50 and 150 bananas, with individual fruits grouped in bunches, known as 'hands', containing 10 to 25 bananas.

Bananas release ethylene which can cause other fruit to ripen. A good way to speed up the ripening process of un-ripened fruit is to put them in a fruit bowl with a bunch of bananas.

At Reynolds, our bananas are bubble-packed and pre-ripened on intake. Fruit is stored in a purpose built 'banana room' which is maintained at a temperature of 14°C because, at lower temperatures, ripening permanently stalls turning the bananas grey as cell walls break down. To ensure they reach our customers in premium condition, our bananas are the last product to be picked in order to minimise chill contamination when they leave the warehouse.

As well as a variety of pack sizes to suit, our wide portfolio of bananas includes single finger fruit for counter displays and fruit stands, imperfect (value) bananas for smoothies and baking, as well as backward coloured fruit for cooking. Fairtrade bananas complete our comprehensive offer

Avocado

Product highlights with Reynolds

Three thousand years ago the Aztecs named the avocado the Fruit of the Gods. One of nature's superfoods, the avocado is packed with over twenty vitamins, minerals and phytonutrients. Avocados are bursting with antioxidants in the form of vitamin E and Omega-6 oils, both of which are needed to maintain healthy skin. They are also rich in mono-unsaturated oil, essential for lowering cholesterol. Just one avocado provides approximately half the recommended daily intake of vitamin B6, which helps to keep the nervous system in good order and avocados contain 60 percent more potassium than bananas.

At Reynolds, we work closely with our suppliers and follow the sun throughout the year to make sure that all our avocados are of optimum quality. With global avocado demand rising each year and erratic weather patterns becoming more commonplace, new and emerging sources are constantly being explored to ensure we maintain fruit quality and availability. Just recently, growers in Colombia and Zimbabwe have been added to our network which includes Chile, Dominican Republic, Peru, RSA, Mexico, US, Spain and Israel.

Our avocados are chosen for their taste and texture, with the most popular by far being the dark-skinned Hass variety. We also sell the Fuerte variety of avocado, which is generally larger with a lighter green skin. As you would expect, fruit is available in a variety of sizes and case formats to suit any purpose.

We are renowned for the care we take with our avocados. The majority of fruit are delivered to us fully ripened to between two and six PSI (pressure per square inch), depending on size. However, softer fruit which is perfect for guacamole, or slightly firmer fruit ripened especially for sushi are also available.

Our warehouse temperature is constantly maintained at 7 to 9°C. By keeping the ripened avocados chilled, we prevent

VEGETABLES

Beetroot

Product highlights with Reynolds

Beetroot evolved from wild seaboot, a native of coastlines from India to Britain, and is also a relative of the turnip and swede. Today beetroot is common throughout much of Europe, and is used extensively in Scandinavian, Eastern European and Russian cuisine.

Beetroot is a rich source of potent antioxidants and nutrients, including magnesium, sodium, potassium, folic acid and vitamin C, as well as betaine, a substance that relaxes the mind and is used in other forms to treat depression.

Since the 16th century, beetroot juice has been used as a natural red dye and the pigment is often used to colour strawberry jam as well as to enhance the appearance of tomato paste, sauces, ice creams and other foods.

Tender baby roots can be grated raw in salads, whilst mature beetroot can be boiled or wrapped in foil and baked. It also makes a great earthy soup or can be a dramatic addition to cakes and puddings. In Australia and New Zealand, a true burger must contain a slice or two of beetroot!

The green leafy portion of the beet is also edible, most commonly served boiled or steamed, with a taste and texture similar to spinach.

Beetroot comes in all shapes and sizes and, as well as the traditional dark red variety, lesser known varieties include yellow, white, and even candy-striped (with red and white concentric circles).

Asparagus

Product highlights with Reynolds

Asparagus is one of the oldest known vegetables and has been cultivated as far back as Egyptian, Greek and Roman times. The biggest producers are Peru, China and Mexico, followed closely by the United States.

These days, due to the divergence of its many climates, Peru can produce asparagus virtually all year round. In comparison the English season is very short, customarily lasting from the end of March through to Midsummer Day (24th June). However, a few UK producers are now managing to extend this long established season.

Around 300 varieties of asparagus are known worldwide, of which only around 20 or so are edible. There are two main types grown commercially, namely green and white but also purple and an unrelated species called wild asparagus or Bath asparagus.

Asparagus is low in calories and very low in sodium. It is a good source of vitamin B6 and calcium and a particularly good source of vitamin A, vitamin C, folic acid and potassium.

RECIPE INSPIRATION

“My team and I are passionate about supporting our customers, and we love creating new and innovative menu solutions to help them address evolving industry trends.

We all know Brussels sprouts aren’t always that popular, so why not make them more appealing this Christmas by adding a tasty dressing? And as we move into spring, you can tackle the evolving provenance trend by using British rhubarb to create a delicious spring salad!

Here are a few seasonal recipes we’ve put together for you to try.”

Diane Camp,
Reynolds’ Executive Development Chef

Mulled winter fruit pudding

Makes 6 x 150ml individual puddings

Ingredients

For the mulled wine

- 750ml red wine (or 500ml red wine and 250ml orange juice)
- 300g caster sugar
- Peeled zest of 1 small orange
- 2 cinnamon sticks
- 2 star anise (broken into small pieces)
- 5 cloves
- 1 vanilla pod (split)

For the fruit filling

- 2 large cooking apples (peeled, cored and diced)
- 2 pears (peeled, cored and diced)
- 150g fresh or frozen cranberries
- 12 slices of white bread (slightly stale is best)

For the cinnamon cream

- 200ml double cream
- 1tbsp icing sugar
- 1tsp ground cinnamon

Method

1. For the mulled wine, simmer all the ingredients together until the flavours have infused.
2. Strain the mulled wine onto the prepared fruit and poach gently until the apples and pears are soft but still retain their shape.
3. Strain the fruit and put the mulled wine to one side.
4. Cut the crusts off the bread and cut to fit the pudding basins.
5. Soak the bread in the warm mulled wine and form a lining of bread in each of the basins.
6. Divide the fruit between the basins and top off with a final disc of bread soaked in wine (N.B. the fruit and lid should sit slightly proud of the pudding basin).
7. Place all the basins on a tray, cover with cling film and place another flat tray on top. Weigh down the top tray to compress the fruit, and place in the fridge for at least 3-4 hours, preferably overnight.
8. Strain the remaining mulled wine, place in a pan and reduce by a third to concentrate the flavour and make a syrupy consistency. Cool and put to one side.
9. Meanwhile, make the cinnamon cream to accompany the mulled winter fruit pudding. Whisk the double cream until it forms soft peaks. Add the icing sugar and half a teaspoon of the ground cinnamon, then use the remaining cinnamon to lightly dust the cream.
10. When you are ready to serve, carefully unmould the puddings and brush with the reduced mulled wine. Serve with the cinnamon cream.

Brussels sprouts with chilli, garlic and lemon

Serves 6-8

Ingredients

- 800g Brussels sprouts
- 1 clove of garlic, finely chopped
- 1 red bullet chilli, deseeded and finely chopped
- Zest and juice of 1 lemon
- Salt and pepper to season
- 2 tbsp olive oil
- 50g butter

Method

1. Place a large pan of water on a high heat and bring to the boil.
2. Place the trimmed Brussels sprouts into the boiling water and cook for five minutes.
3. When the sprouts are cooked, immediately drain the water and run them under cold water to retain their colour and crunch.
4. Once they've cooled, slice each sprout into quarters (this is optional but doing so helps the sprouts to carry more flavour).
5. When you are ready to serve, place a large frying pan on high heat and add the olive oil and butter.
6. When the butter has melted, add the chopped garlic and chilli and give the pan a little toss. Be careful not to brown the mixture as this will taint the flavour of the chilli and garlic.
7. Add the quartered sprouts, followed by the lemon zest and juice, and give the pan another toss to ensure the sprouts are well coated.
8. Serve immediately. The sprouts should still be a vibrant green colour, as well as sweet and crunchy with a good citrus and chilli kick.

Marinated rhubarb, raw Chantenay carrot salad with a Rosary Ash goats curd and walnuts

Makes 4 individual salads

Ingredients

For the salad

- 50g Chantenay carrots, finely shaved and stored in cold water
- 100g dandelions, picked and stored in cold water
- 20g chervil, picked and stored in cold water
- 25g walnut halves, broken into pieces
- 75g Rosary Ash goats cheese, crumbled
- 125g rhubarb, cut into 8cm lengths and sliced thinly using a peeler

For the marinade for the rhubarb

- 3 tbsp virgin olive oil
- 1 tsp cider vinegar
- 1 tsp Dijon mustard
- 1 tsp honey
- Sea salt
- Freshly ground black pepper

Method

1. Make the dressing by whisking all the ingredients together.
2. Add the sliced rhubarb to the marinade, then cover and leave in the fridge for 6 hours.
3. Strain the liquid off the rhubarb.
4. To serve, construct the salad using all of the ingredients.
